

Fiji Islands

Bula

Often referred to as the 'Crossroads of the South Pacific' because of its geographical location, the Fiji Islands is a hospitable land of contrasts in people, flora, fauna and culture.

It is home to people who have been called the friendliest on earth. It is made up of a chain of over 300 islands and is a cosmopolitan cocktail of culture, race and religion. It is a place where 'bula', the traditional Fijian greeting, is a very special word and you can relax without a care in the world.

Fiji Islands has a population of just over 750,000 and a land area of 18,200 km taken up mostly by the two major islands Viti Levu and Vanua Levu.

Climate: Tropical, warm and pleasant year- round temperatures, with average temperatures of 25 degrees celsius.

Accommodation. A wide range of accommodation, from 5 star luxury hotels, resorts to budget and backpackers. Plenty available. The island resorts too have a high standard of accommodation.

Airlines: International, easily accessible from most parts of the world. Air Pacific, Air New Zealand, Air Caledonia, Polynesian Blue, Air Marshall, Solomon Airlines Qantas, Air Vanuatu and Korean Airlines. Domestic: Air Fiji, Sunflower Airlines provide local services throughout the Fiji Islands. Charter flights and helicopters are also available.

Entry requirements: Current passport valid up to 3 months beyond expected stay. Pre-arrival visas are required for Nationals of only a few countries.

Health Regulations: Fiji is free from most tropical diseases including Malaria.

Currency: Fiji $.

Transport: Buses, Deluxe coaches, Taxis and rental cars. Overseas driving licences are valid for 6 months.

Language: Official language is English, Fijian and Hindustani is widely spoken.

For more information contact: Fiji Visitors Bureau, PO Box 9217, Nadi Airport
www.bulafiji.com